Parent Council

Our final parent council meeting for this school year approaches and I want to thank everyone who has been involved through the council this year. Our parent council is a great support to the school in many ways - acting as an advisory committee to give timely feedback and ask important questions, arranging volunteer support for many events and programs that would not be possible without them, and supporting identified areas of need in the school. Overall, the parent council plays a vital role ensuring that the parent voice is represented in our school community.

Special thanks to our council co-chairs, Jana Brown and Renee Petten, who have taken on this role and have really done a great job. Jana and Renee have brought an array of new ideas and enthusiasm to support Deer Meadow. Together with the council executive and numerous other volunteers they have implemented many new initiatives that have really benefited our school. Thank you!

Our school would benefit from having more parents involved. As it goes every year with their students moving up to the high school, many of our current active members will no longer be Deer Meadow parents. To see what this is all about, please consider attending our next online meeting on Thursday, June 13th at 7:00pm. Use the link below to join the meeting.

If you are interested, or would like more specific information about parent council, please don't hesitate to contact me at the school.
